

Second round of entrepreneurs prove that tough times will stifle creativity – recession or not. Prudence salutes women willing to take risks and branch out on their own

